1. Comment. Probably military trains.

2. Comment. No figures for previous months are available for comparison. After deduction of 1,062 cars which probably belong to troop trains, the number of cars loaded for supply shipments in the area of the Schwerin railroad district would be 170 cars during the period under review. This insignificant number supports the assumption that no major supply installations are maintained close to the front in the northern area.

4.  Comment. Probably deliveries to subordinate units from the clothing and ration supply depot of the Northern Fighter Corps in Wittstock.

6.  Comment. These shipments were possibly made in conjunction with an expected reoccupation of Parchim airfield.
